James M. Parrish

James M. Parrish, a man with integrity, high energy and ability, was a leader among his peers. He was a voice in community debates over growth, development and other sometimes divisive issues, yet a man with compassion for his community—one who saw the need to get involved and did. Along with a lengthy and distinguished involvement with the local, state, national Association of Realtors, Jim also served as an officer and director for the Gainesville Jaycees and Historic Gainesville, Inc., as a director for the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce, and as chairman for the Neighborhood Housing Service. He was a member of Sustainable Alachua County and the Council for Economic Outreach. He also served as an advisor director of First Union Bank and a member of the University of Florida Real Estate Advisory Board.
